

Rolling Plan for Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela

As of April 1st, 2015

Basic Policy		Promotion of environmental conservation and disaster prevention measures
Priority Area 1		Environmental protection and disaster prevention
Development Issues Environmental protection and disaster prevention and reconstruction assistance, etc.	【Current Situation and Issues】 In Venezuela, there is limited general awareness about environmental issues. The deterioration of the environment and public health are caused by improper handling of waste in urban areas. Air pollution has become a problem, caused by mass consumption of oil resources. It is urgent to take the necessary measures. Moreover, for geographical reasons, it is a country with great natural disasters such as landslides caused by torrential rains, including flood disaster. It is also prone to earthquakes. Many lives are lost when disaster strikes, the transport network is interrupted, the administrative functions are paralyzed, generating economic and social damage in the country. It is necessary to educate the population on disaster prevention. In addition to the emergency response to disasters, it needs to develop human resources for the reconstruction plan.				【Policy on Development Issues】 Disaster prevention in the Community and management of the environment (waste management, global warming, etc.) through training on specific issues, as well as improved training, sending volunteers to local human resources in environmental management, and is extended to the general public through educational practices and conservation activities of the natural environment.
